Home Care Administrator Honored with Hulda Osborn Award

The Nebraska Home Care Association announced that Krista Upson, RN, BSN has been named a Hulda Osborn Award recipient. The Hulda Osborn Award is presented to individuals who make outstanding contributions as caregivers, or have helped advocate or support the home care industry contributions as caregivers.

Krista's nomination came from Amy Whited and Rob Lally, Client Care Coordinators with Hillcrest Home Care. Amy and Rob wrote:

"Krista has faithfully served in various capacities throughout her nine years working in home care. She is a person of high moral integrity, compassion for others and strong work ethic that has made her a role model and champion for ensuring the highest level of care provided by our home care team. Krista's strong critical thinking skills afford her the unique ability to plan and implement innovative programs in the home health setting that ultimately provide a service where gaps in health care often exist. Examples of program development under Krista's direction include a telehealth program, community palliative care and wellness centers throughout our service area.

Krista's mantra of providing the right type of care at the right time in order to maximize outcomes is a direct result of the 50 unit telehealth program to remotely monitor the most valuable of clients that are at an increased risk for unplanned re-hospitalization. She has been an active leader in designing and implementing a community palliative care program to provide a safety net for those clients that often find themselves somewhere between being eligible for skilled homecare services and not yet ready to explore hospice services. Her proactive mentality led to the concept of providing wellness services throughout our community to promote physical health and well-being through health screening, education and exercise classes.

As leader, Krista was the foreman of our home care team in building, testing, implementing and stabilizing a new integrated Electronic Medical Record System. She insisted that the new system not only be designed to be efficient and effective for our team members, but also that the work processes be hard wired to ensure best practice care was being delivered to our clients. Krista has led the development of evidence based clinical pathways, advanced education and training for our team members to more effectively manage chronic diseases such as cardiac heart failure (CHF), cardiopulmonary disease (COPD) and diabetes.

From the Desk of Jolene Roberts

Dear Team Members,

Congratulations to Krista Upson for receiving The Nebraska Home Care Association Hulda Osborn Award. This award recognizes her academic and clinical achievements in home care. Congratulations to the entire Home Care team, as I am sure your support of Krista's leadership contributed to her award. Way to go Home Care - teamwork!

I would like to welcome a new administrator to our Operations team - Mr. Tim Martens. Tim has a wealth of leadership experience in the provision of what we call "private duty" non-medical services. Tim will lead the reorganization of these services and growth of this side of our business. Welcome Tim.

Per my December Informer, I promised

I would speak about each of the 5 Strategic Initiatives we as an organization are working on to help us reach our vision of "Becoming a National Leader providing integrated services for the aging adult." Initiative #4 is to have efficient IT systems that

In January 2015, Krista was bestowed the highest team member award our company presents. The Advancing Quality Award is created to recognize team members for outstanding work performance in the areas of supporting our mission to enhance the lives of aging adults and our vision to become a national leader in providing integrated services to the aging adult. Krista believes in creating awesome experiences for her team members and the clients they serve by expecting excellence, always learning, growing, caring, respecting and having fun along the way.

Krista's innovation, creative leadership style, passion for helping others, and advocacy for the role of home care services in the delivery of health care in our community made her an ideal candidate for the Hulda Osborn Award. The Nebraska Home Care Association recognizes and thanks Krista and her colleagues for their leadership, dedication, compassionate care and commitment to delivery of quality home and community based healthcare."

What a wonderful letter and what a fantastic honor for Krista!

Hillcrest Briefs

Hillcrest Home & Community Services:

Amanda Killin, Home Care Director of Clinical Services, is processing through her transition from Hospice to Home Care, while mentoring new Hospice Director of Clinical Services, Jennifer Nichols.

support integrated business needs, a seamless system for electronic health record and operational decision making. There are many tactics to put this initiative into action. They include:

- The development of a company intranet (like internet, only just Hillcrest information for Hillcrest team members).
- Implementation of OnShift. This is awesome web-based team member scheduling software that is close to implementation for facility-based service lines. This will allow communication via texting, support self-scheduling and enhance communication for shift changes.
- Implementation of a new performance management system. This will be an automated process that begins with the job task analysis, job descriptions and performance reviews being conducted via online exchange of information. We forecast this to be a more effective communication method between leader and team member regarding job performance, will better identify team member aspirations for company promotions, set forth professional growth strategies for team members and improve the processing of evaluations online. It will be great.
- An outside firm will soon be conducting a comprehensive review of our IT infrastructure and systems and advise us on positioning our IT for company growth.

Every one of us plays an important role in the provision of services for our aging adults. Whether you are a seasoned housekeeper, nurse tech, hostess, leader or CEO, we all contribute and we are all important to the company product - services for aging adults.

Hillcrest has been a proven leader in proactive thinking about caring for aging adults. We will continue to advance our initiatives to enhance quality of life and quality of care in 2016.

BE GOOD TO ONE ANOTHER!

The Easter Bunny will join us that day too!

Each month, we spotlight team members who exemplify our mission of enhancing the lives of aging adults.

Cynthia Graham, Nursing Assistant
Hillcrest Health & Rehab

Our team members at HHR are always glad when they have Cynthia on their team. She is efficient at her job and gets things done. In addition to picking up extra shifts when needed, Cynthia is flexible with her work schedule and willing to go anywhere she is needed. She always has a positive attitude and a smile to go with it. Not only does Cynthia give 200% of herself when she is at work, but she is also taking med tech classes to increase her knowledge. Cynthia truly cares about enhancing the lives of aging adults.

- Kevin Sauberzweig, Administrator

Cindy Tock, Administrative Assistant
Hillcrest Country Estates

In just a short period of time with us, Cindy has really shown her customer service skills. At 5:05 p.m. on a Friday night the Federal Express man made his delivery. Cindy knew that one of the independent living residents was waiting on yarn to knit something (because she chats everyone up when they bring in the rent check). She walked that package up to the resident's apartment because she didn't want her waiting until Monday for her package. That is good customer service.

Cindy has also helped another independent living resident get their voicemail up and running. She took the time to explain the instructions that our IT department sent. She was very patient with this resident and the resident left very satisfied. Way to go Cindy! Keep up the good work!

- Cindy Klein, Administrator

Jade Hamner, Assistant Administrative Office Coordinator
Hillcrest Home Care

Jade joined the Home Care team as Assistant Administrative Office Coordinator in July of 2015, instantly meshing with her fellow peers and adjusting to the functions of her new position. With a home care background, Jade quickly became comfortable in her role, taking on responsibilities with ease, asking pertinent questions when applicable and offering suggestions on how to do things alternatively rather than simply doing things "the way it's always been done."

Based on our growth in census and adjustment in processes to accommodate, Jade has taken on an increased role in not only our referral processing, but assisting with scheduling, caseload tracking, and delegation of visits to the clinical team, as well as backing up her supervisor during times of absence. She asks to assist others with increased workload and is always pleasant in her approach. She has been a fabulous addition to the HHC team!
